

A note from NCCU Alumni Scholar Megan Frazier-George

Greetings Fellow Eagles,

My name is Megan Frazier-George, I am a senior here at the illustrious campus of North Carolina Central University, majoring in Recreation Administration with a concentration in Recreation Therapy. I have been an Alumni Scholar since my freshmen year, 2014. On campus I am a member of Aspiring Eagles Academy, which is a summer bridge program that provides students with the opportunity to take classes, earn extra credit hours all while helping them prepare for college. Outside of academics and work, I am also a Spring'17 Initiate of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Incorporated where I hold the position of Chair of the Audit Committee. It also allows me to volunteer at various community service events and help promote academic excellence. By working in a team-oriented environment I am not only able to give back to the community but I am able to give back to my illustrious institution.

I plan to enroll in a master's program after graduating from NCCU, following that I will pursuing my Doctorate of Physical Therapy. Being a student here at NCCU and an Alumni scholar has taught to be consistently punctual, well-prepared and eager to assume new responsibilities in the tasks that are put before me.
